COLLEGE CHAMPIONS. Cornell, Yale and Harvard Share the

Cornell, Yale and Harvard share the championship titles in intercollegiate sports during the season of 1915.

The Ithacans have captured the football honors, track and field, wrestling, and have a claim on rowing, sharing with Yale. Many will perhaps differ on the latter title, as the Yale crew defeated Cornell early in the rowing season, but however, it is a question whether Yale could have defeated the Ithacan crew as it rowed those four miles on the Hudson in front of the Leland Stanford eight in Juna, when they were in the pinkest of condition and form.

e was left undecided. Princeton won he water polo honors.
One of the real surprises of the year as the rise of the University of Maine herose country running. The Maine arriers had been doing well in their ectional division, but few conceded hem a chance in the big run at Boston at month. They presented a finely alanced team and wrested the honors rom Cornell.

been picked with reasons of selection which follows:

There may be some surprise that Joe Loomis is picked for the best 100-yard sprinter in preference to Howard Drew. Loomis is given the position not only because of his high-class performances, but also his consistency. In the Central A. A. U championships he did 9 4-5 seconds, and against the pick of America at San Francisco he won in the same excellent time. Had Drew been in as good shape as he was last year he would probably have won, but he had more sor less difficulty with his leg, in which he pulled a tendon at Stockholm in 1912, and was not himself.

There was not a consistently high-class-man in the 220-yard dash. Drew and Morse, of Brooklyn; Smith, of Michigan; Meyer, of New York, and Ward, of Chicago, were all good for better than 22 seconds. But with Drew uncertain and the others not exceptionally fast, the honor is given to Morse, of Brooklyn, who cleaned up most of the best men in the East, and won the event at San Francisco in 21 1-5 seconds.

Meredith Supreme in Twe Events.

J. E. Meregith, of the University of Pennsylvania, is picked for the 440-yard dash by unanimous consent. Maredith won virtually every scratch intercollegiste, records of 43 seconds, and with a slight wind at his back also equalled the world's straightaway record of 44 seconds. Dismond, of Chicago, was almost as, fast, and so were Willoux, of Harvard; Wilkle, of Tale; and Halpin, of Boston, but Meredith is the world's record-holder, with a shocknoim in 1912. He proved that he half ost none of his marvenus he had ost none of his marvenus pinnship in 48 seconds, he beat a fresh field of men in the half-mile in 1:55 2-5. There is no room on the Phillies for Mike Doolan, F. Otto Knabe, Tom Seaton, Runt Walsh and Ad Brennan, members of the team who jumped to the independents in the spring of 1914. Pat Moran, manager of the champions, officially put himself on record in a telegram.

Moran's message was in response to a wire sent him at his home in Fitchburg, Mass. The telegram read:

"Will Doolan, Knabe, Seaton, Brennan and Walsh revert to the Phillies? Do you want any or all of them?"

"I know all are great ball players, but I am out to build up with young players."
